Dead in the Water: A Cherringham Mystery Matthew Costello, Neil Richards

On the night of the school prom, a promising young teacher is found dead, drowned in a drug-related accident. It seems - at first - to be yet another sign that Cherringham High is spiraling out of control. But the new Head, recruited to rescue the school, becomes convinced that the teacher's death is suspicious and quietly calls in Sarah Edwards.

But Sarah's never tackled a case alone. Can she convince her old partner-in-crime - Jack Brennan, back in the village for only a few short weeks - to join her? And even together, will they be prepared for where that floating body really leads?

-- "Dead in the Water" is the first full-length novel set in the sleepy English village of Cherringham, featuring the unlikely sleuthing duo Sarah, an English web designer, and Jack, American ex-cop. Thrilling and deadly - but with a spot of tea - it's like Rosamunde Pilcher meets Inspector Barnaby.

-- For fans of Agatha Christie's Miss Marple series, Lilian Jackson Braun's The Cat Who series, Caroline Graham's Midsomer Murders, and the American TV series Murder She Wrote, starring Angela Lansbury.

-- Co-authors Neil Richards (based in the UK) and Matthew Costello (based in the US), have been writing together since the mid 90's, creating content and working on projects for the BBC, Disney Channel, Sony, ABC, Eidos, and Nintendo to name but a few. Their transatlantic collaboration has underpinned scores of TV drama scripts, computer games, radio shows, and - most recently - the successful crime fiction series Cherringham. First released as eBook novellas, Cherringham is popular around the world, has been adapted as a series of audiobooks in Germany and will be released as audiobooks in the UK in Summer 2016.
